NERVOUSNESS AND STOMACH TROUBLE YIELD TO KAVATONE

Stomach Trouble Nervousness Vanish as Kavatone Exerts its Power.

The effect of Kavatone on the whole inner-system brings amazing relief in cases of suffering that has been going on for years. At the same time many weak and rundown systems have been restored to a new state of health through the use of this compound, and such a vast number of men and women in this city have told of their experiences with this new medical product until now Kavatone has become the most highly indorsed medicine that is known in this vicinity.

MRS. A. E. COLLIER.

Kavatone, because of the ingredients it contains and the manner in which it is made, is said to go to the very source and seat of those ills and ailments incident to the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels such as rheumatism, neuritis, constipation, nervousness, bad blood and such like ailments and ills. Not only does Kavatone do its work thoroughly, but happy users are constantly telling of the amazingly quick results they obtained.

Everyone troubled with nervousness, indigestion and kidney trouble will realize how welcome relief from these ailments was to Mrs. A. E. Collier, of 308 East Third St., Sterling, Ill. "When a medicine will do what Kavatoe has done for me I do not hesitate in saying it is worthy of the highest praise. For nine years I suffered with stomach trouble, constipation and nervousness. After eating I would have indigestion and gas pains that would get so bad at times my heart would pain and flutter. Then my stomach would burn like fire, and I would belch up bits of undigested food which left a bad taste in my mouth. I would be so nervous and restless at night that I could hardly sleep. I was also troubled with constipation and would have to take laxatives continually. These conditions kept getting worse and worse and gradually sapped all my pep vitality until I just couldn't do much of anything.

"I had been reading about Kavatoe and decided to give this medicine a trial. As bad as my condition had been the second bottle. It seemed that new life and vigor was flowing through my body. My appetite increased and now I can eat anything I want with no fear of indigestion pains or gas bloating. My nerves have quieted down and I am able to sleep well at night. You will realize how I feel towards Kavatoe when I tell you that it has given me more relief than any of the many other remedies I have been trying for years. If my statement will influence other sufferers to try Kavatoe I feel they will feel as grateful towards it as I do."

The Kavatoe Man is at the FORD HOPKINS DRUG STORE, Dixon, Ill., where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this great medicine. Everyone is cordially invited to call at the store, meet the Kavatoe Man and hear first hand the story of this remarkable medicine.—Adv.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE VOTERS OF LEE COUNTY—

As a candidate for Sheriff of Lee County I wish to state that if elected I will endeavor to do the best of my ability to enforce all laws and duties of said office. I am a son of the late Henry Woodyatt, who served four years as sheriff, from 1886 to 1890, and as chief of police of the city of Dixon for the following 36 years, and as such pledge myself to live up to the reputation that he, as a public officer, made.

Thanking you for your vote and support at the primaries tomorrow.

Respectfully yours,
HOWARD WOODYATT

ATTENTION!

DIXON EX-SERVICE MEN—the men who are endorsing the candidacy of Gardner Cook for Sheriff—respectfully submit his name to the voters of Lee county and earnestly request their support for him at the Primary Election, Tuesday, April 8th.

Gardner Cook is a young man who merits your support and who these ex-service men are proud to offer to you as a candidate for Sheriff. He is a young man—but not too young to have fought for his country in the recent World War he is not affiliated with any political "ring" or combination, consequently, he must appeal to the voters directly and not through the "grape-vine" system of politics. His record is clean and he promises to keep it clean. He promises to enforce all laws and give equal consideration to the rights of all. Lee County deserves a younger man in the Sheriff's office and, particularly, a man who is not burdened by affiliations and connections which have been formed through previous service in that office. Gardner Cook comes to you free from any debts or obligations to any one.

We offer to you the kind of man you have been waiting to support.

WINDS

SOME winds, like robins, nest in trees.
And some, like meadow larks, in grasses.
While others cling to flowers, like bees;
The gales that sweep the salt morasses.
Like petrels, brood on stormy seas;
And eagle winds, as wild as these,
Their eeries make on beetling masses
Of crag in rugged mountain passes;
But wiser is the nestling breeze—
The laughing, elfin breeze, that furs
Its fragrant wings among your curls.
—From "The Light Guitar," by Arthur Guiterman.

Americanization Program Thursday Evening Patriotic Success

The Americanization program given Thursday evening in G. A. R. hall under the supervision of Lucy R. Eastman, local chairman of the American War Mothers was well attended and showed the growth of America from the time of the American Indians until the present day. The following personnel represented the characters and each was dressed according to the country they exemplified. Indians, Elwin Jr. and Marshall Bunnell; Puritans, Florence Onnen and Irene Vickery; America—Zelpha Cinnamon; the Dutch, Ethel Watson and Ida Rice; Italy—Mina Hettner; England—Maude Kime; China—Clea Bunnell and Frankie Stawhun; Spain—Bernice Kime; Goddess of Liberty—Dorothy McWethy; Soldier—Walter Fallstrom. As these countries came into the presence of the Indians and the Puritans a courtship was given to them. Lola Price, State Chairman of the Am. War Mothers explained the arrival of each and the purpose of their coming to America. This program closed with a tableau of the Goddess of Liberty holding high her lighted torch protected by the American Soldier and the American Flag.

Preceding the program the Ladies Drum Corps of the Daughters of the Union Veterans of the Civil War under the direction of Howard Woodruff gave several selections.

Ruth Elder Chosen For Role of Juliet

New York, April 7.—(UP)—Ruth Elder, who became a social registerite when she was married to Walter Camp, Jr., has become so popular in elite circles that she has been chosen for the role of Juliet in a Shakespearean pageant for a prominent charity carnival. Mrs. Camp, the first woman to attempt a trans-Atlantic flight, gained acting experience in Hollywood before her marriage.

W. F. M. S. in Annual Founders Day Celebration

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Church held its annual Founders Day celebration, Thursday, April 3rd, with a picnic dinner at 1 o'clock in the church. At 2:30 the meeting opened with singing of the year hymn, "The Church's One Foundation" and Mrs.

Clara Rowe led the devotional service using the topic "Jerusalem." The hymn "Jerusalem, the Golden" was sung.

During the business session, Mrs. Belle Morris was appointed chairman of arrangements for the food sale to be held, Saturday, April 12, at the Better Paint store, the unit leaders to notify their members. One new member was reported, Mrs. Arthur Preston. Mesdames Randall, Hartzell, Grover and Mary Anderson were appointed by the president, a committee on membership for April.

The closing study of "The Unfinished Task" was given by Miss Flora Seals. It told of our unfinished work among those terribly neglected and shamefully treated people, the Jews. It showed that a new attitude is being created by Christians towards the Jews and also, by the Jews toward Christianity and Christ, which is one of the hopeful signs of the times and is leading to a marked turning of them to Christianity.

The supreme challenge of the Christian missionary enterprise is not the darkened powers of old paganism, but the unconquered pagan areas in the heart of Christendom itself. It is the unchristianity of the so-called followers of Christ that is standing squarely in opposition to the whole missionary movement today. If we are to continue our missionary work, we must strive not only to carry the gospel to those who know it not but, also, to abolish war with its greed, cruelty, and hatred; to establish international friendship and justice; to prevent the exploitation of the weaker nations by the stronger; to Christianize business; to overcome race prejudice and to destroy the liquor traffic.

We must not be satisfied until the reproaches of these things are removed from a nation called Christian and until it can justly be said, "Blessed is America for her God is the Lord."

The special music of the afternoon was two beautiful solos sung by Mrs. Philip Raymond, entitled, "My Task" and "He Knows," with Mrs. Louise Smith, as accompanist.

The program closed with a demonstration on Stewardship by eight ladies which was very effective. The several women, Mesdames Hobbs, Willford, Mall, Brown, Ware, Bills, Brewster and Hartzell represented "The Womanhood of the World, Pleasure, Indifference, Selfishness, Spirit of the W. F. M. S., Prayer, Personality and Possessions." While Mrs. A. D. George sang, "Take My Life and Let It Be, Consecrated Lord to Thee," the mite box offering was taken which amounted to nearly $35.00. A second opening will be held in August. The meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. J. H. Lievan.

Mrs. S. J. Mall will be hostess for the May meeting.

Loeschler-Helander Wedding Saturday Eve

On Saturday night at 10:30 Rev. A. G. Suechting, pastor of the Immanuel Lutheran church performed the single ring ceremony which united in marriage George Henry Loeschler of Dixon and Miss Mildred Helander, also of Dixon, Route 3. The bride was most attractively attired in a modish gown of lavender flat crepe, and her sister, Miss Alice Helander wore a dainty gown in rose flat crepe. Frank Loeschler was best man for his brother. Sunday at noon, a sumptuous dinner in honor of the newlyweds was given at the home of the bride's parents on Route 3, to the immediate relatives. The dining table was gay with spring flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Loeschler are both popular and estimable young people and intend to settle on a farm some time in the future. At present he is driving a truck for the Twin City Fruit Co.

Hillside Community Club Held Meeting

The Hillside Community club held their meeting Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Morris, instead of meeting at the Emil Mielkes home as planned, because of illness in the Mielkes home. There were fifty-five present. The evening was spent enjoying a program arranged by the entertainment committee, the committee consisting of Mrs. Marcy Spratt, Blanche Colwell, Ernest Fair. The program was as follows: Song—"My Old Kentucky Home"—All Playlet—"Scat"—Blanche Colwell and Mr. and Mrs. George Miller. Reading—"The Physical Torture Club"—Clarence Miller, Mrs. Inez Fisher, Anna Sanders, Lennie Spratt. Humorous Paper—Hillside Community News—Mrs. Ernest Fair. Presented "An Old Fashioned Mother" at Colony

"An Old Fashioned Mother," a drama in three acts, was presented at the Colony Friday evening under the sponsorship of the Brotherhood Class of the Dixon Congregational Church.

Though given by home talent the play, sparkling with amusing situations, and with its vein of tragedy, was surprisingly well rendered, each member of the cast carrying his part with an earnestness that revealed real talent.

The play, which takes over two hours for performance, will be presented at the Dixon Congregational church in the near future.

CAUSE FOR REJOICING!

EXCUSE our enthusiasm, but we see good cause for rejoicing as the Music Defense League nears the 2,000,000 membership mark after a few short weeks of effort.

And, if that doesn't prove that the American public wants Living Orchestras and Organists in the Theatre, what would?

There is nothing exclusive about this swiftly-growing society. It's inclusive—inclusive of the intelligent citizenry of the New World. And that covers a lot of people, cynics to the contrary notwithstanding. It should, by the way, include YOU.

To become a member in good standing of the Music Defense League one needs only the discriminating taste to know that the art of music is worthy of preservation, and the good sense to want one's money's worth. There are no dues, no obligations.

Throughout the world friends of music are alive to the cultural menace of Canned Music in Theatres. Even the governments of England, France, Spain and Italy are considering measures to prevent this artistic debasement.

American music lovers have chosen the popular and democratic course—that of registering public demand through the Music Defense League.

What if theatrical interests are momentarily deaf to all considerations save profits gained through false economy? They will heed the voice of the public when that voice attains a sufficiently compelling volume. For the public must be served.

If you value the cultural influence of music... if you feel that the price you pay for theatrical entertainment entitles you to real music rendered by living musicians in the theatre, sign the coupon below and mail it.

TOMORROW'S THE DAY.

It is your privilege and your duty to go to the polls tomorrow and select your party candidate for many important offices. Anything that would interfere with your voting must be extremely serious if it is more important than the welfare of your county, state and nation.

In this overwhelmingly Republican state, probably every nominee named at Tuesday's election will be elected to office this fall and so the primary election is really of more importance than the fall election.

A LAW WE DON'T NEED.

The old question of compulsory registration of all aliens in the United States seems to be reviving again. Two bills on the subject are now pending in Congress, and in the House, at least, there is said to be a good deal of sentiment for their passage.

Their provisions are familiar. Every alien would have to register once each year. He would get a certificate bearing his photo, his signature and other identifying data—including a record of any arrests he might have—and any police or federal officer compel him to show it at any time.

It is a little hard to see just why such a law is needed; but it is not at all hard to see how easily such a law could be abused. Just at present, for instance, we are having trouble with unemployment, and a number of Communist demonstrations have taken place. Can't you imagine what a beautiful weapon this registration law would make for any city or state government that lost its head and decided to put on a big "red hunt"?

PUBLIC SCHOOL WHIPPINGS.

An Elyria (O.) school teacher faces a court charge of assault and battery because she whipped a school girl in her class; and the girl's parents are refusing to send their children to school until the case is disposed of.

This sort of thing pops up every so often, at one place or another. It is very likely would have astounded our grandparents, who could not conceive of a school functioning without a good supply of birch rods; and yet, despite the old adage about the rod and the child, public sentiment no longer supports corporal punishment as strongly as it once did.

When a parent has to resort to whipping a child to get obedience it generally means that there is something wrong with the parents. The same is not quite true of school teachers, since they fall heir to problems that arise out of the pupils' faulty home training. Nevertheless, we are slowly working away from the idea of school-room whippings, and it is just as well.

HAS THE FARMER ESCAPED?

Although wheat prices have slumped disastrously recently, Vice President Allard Smith of the Union Trust Company of Cleveland, is authority for the statement that the farmer is not the big loser, after all.

Most wheat growers, he says, sold their crop before the slump came, and the big losers are the speculators and middlemen.

This is encouraging news—not that anyone has any grudge against the speculators and middlemen, but because the poor farmer has taken enough bumps in the last few years. If he has avoided this one, so much the better.

The news suggests, furthermore, that we might as well reserve judgment on the complaints that are made about the farm board's responsibility for the price decline. The wheat speculator has no love for this farm board, and nothing would please him more than to persuade the average citizen that the farm board has hurt the farmer.

Many peace loving people would like to have seen more scrapping at the London conference.

When former Secretary of State Kellogg said "something will come out of the London conference," he probably had in mind another conference.

By the time the news is circulated that a pianist in Yugoslavia set a record of 85 hours of continuous playing, his neighbors may have made of him a harp player.

A piano marathoner can be said to roll the ivories, but it's the neighbors who do the shooting.

How about Harvard's scrub teams taking the place of the washerwomen discharged recently by the university? The college song might then be changed to read: "Till the last white line is washed."

A grass in Canada is said to absorb noise. The first thing one thinks of is its application in Congress.

A radio song helped a sick boy, says a newspaper story. Some of those songs would get anybody out of bed.

THE TINYMITES

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The Tinymites all gazed around. An elevator soon was found, that rose up in the Eiffel Tower until it reached the top. The Travel Man said, "Come with me. A very pretty sight we'll see, I'll take you so high up it would be an awful drop."

Into the elevator they all walked and it was on its way. Up, up they went, real slow, but sure. It was a thrilling ride. Soon Clowny shouted, "Me, oh my! I fear we'll bump into the sky." Then Scouty broke in, "This is great. Just marvelous," he sighed.

The elevator then stopped short and Carpy shouted, "This is short. We're right atop the Eiffel Tower. Come in, let's look around." At first the bunch was rather scared as they went into the air they peered. The Paris buildings looked real small, away down on the ground.

In half an hour the Travel Man said, "Well, lads, now I guess we can go down again. We've seen enough of Paris from up here." And down they went. When on the ground, they once more stood and looked around. "Let's go to Notre Dame," cried one. "It isn't far from here."

"A man just told me where it was and I would like to see it 'cause they say the building's wonderful." "All right!" replied their friend. "I'll take you there and mighty quick. An omnibus will turn the trick." They rode and rode upon their trip until they reached the end.

Each one was glad he was on hand to go through Notre Dame. 'Twas grand. They went up to some balconies and walked around outside. The gargoyles there were quite a sight to each and every Tinymite. "I've never seen such wondrous things," one of the travelers cried.

DAILY LENTEN THOUGHT

BY PROF. R. NIEBUHR
Union Theological Seminary, New York

"The son of man came not to be ministered unto but to minister and to give his life a ransom for many." We hear a great deal about the law of service in modern business. Sometimes it is suggested that this law is closely related to or the flower of the gospel principle of mutual service.

There is a real difference, however. The business law of service is in effect: "Be kind, courteous and serve the public because in this manner you will be able to build up good will, an item which you can actually list in your books as an asset of monetary value." There is nothing wrong in such a viewpoint, but it ought to be recognized for the prudential morality that it is. The service about which Jesus spoke was sacrificial rather than prudential. It did not envisage tangible rewards. Jesus warned against loving only those who love us and inviting only those who are able to invite us in return. In other words, there is an absolute tone in His ethical demands which is quite distinct from all prudential morality. One might illustrate the difference between prudential morality and sacrificial morality in terms of a very urgent contemporary problem: that of unemployment. The prudential moral man will say: "I will do something for the unemployed if you can show me that it is good business to do so."

Now as a matter of fact, it will probably prove good business in the end to stabilize employment and offer the security of unemployment insurance to the workers. But it will be some time before such a step will prove itself good business. We cannot expect the prudent man to initiate it, therefore.

It will have to be initiated by those who have a passion for suffering man, and those who do not count the immediate cost of social conduct too carefully nor measure the returns of service in tangible rewards. (Copyright, 1930, I.F.A. Service, Inc.)

P. T. BARNUM'S DEATH
On April 7, 1891, P. T. Barnum, famous American showman, died at Bridgeport, Conn.

His first real venture in showmanship occurred when he bought for $1000 Joyce Keth, aged negro woman, reputed to be the nurse of George Washington. Although he was only 25 years old, Barnum created his own daily show and exhibited his freak for considerable profit.

After meeting several reverses, each of which reduced him to poverty, Barnum bought the American Museum in New York. One of the greatest curiosities he displayed there was his "Fetee Mermaid." It had the head of a monkey and the body of a fish and was advertised as having been captured by Japanese fishermen.

In 1847 he introduced Jenny Lind, famous Swedish singer, to America, paying her $1000 a night for 150 nights. The demand for seats was so great that tickets were auctioned off, bringing exorbitant prices. When two of his museums were destroyed by fire, Barnum established his "Greatest Show on Earth," a traveling circus and menagerie. Barnum was an unsuccessful candidate for Congress but was four times elected to the Connecticut legislature.

HOME VENTILATION
By Josephine Walker, M. D., New York, N. Y.

(This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial Institute, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. The headquarters of the Institute are at 1331 G Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.)

Every family should judge its home on the following points:
Lack of Ventilation

This means allowing the exhalations of the human body and other products of vegetable and animal decomposition to remain in a room at the same time that ingress of fresh air to the room is limited.

Effects of Lack of Ventilation
Absorption of the unventilated exhalations of the healthy human body is detrimental to health sometimes fatal to life. Its injurious effect is in direct proportion to the amount absorbed to, the length of time one is exposed to these exhalations, and to their degree of concentration. This injury to health can be fully avoided by proper ventilation, i. e., allowing free discharge of the foul air from the room, and free admission, into the room of sunlight and fresh air. The effects of lack of ventilation on the individual vary greatly in their development and character and are due to absorption of the different impurities given off from the animal body through respiration and transpiration. The local and general effects may be summarized as follows: Pallor, anemia, poor blood, headaches, drowsiness; dizziness, listlessness, inability to concentrate attention for a length of time on work, specially as the day advances; disturbed sleep, even sleeplessness; loss of appetite, distaste for food, impaired digestion; depression of spirits, irritation of eyes; tendency to nasal and bronchial catarrh; slow convalescence from sickness; and retarded mental and physical development of the child.

Best Means of Ventilation
The use of windows, doors, etc., as outlets and inlets for ventilating a room is very simple. Every room should be flushed with fresh air daily at least twice; more frequently if it is constantly occupied, by opening one window from below, the other from above. If there is only one window in the room then this window should be opened above and below. A slowly entering current of air may be cold but it is not suction force. At night there need be no fear of objection to the air entering even if it is damp or cold. A window should always be kept open, from above several inches, depending on the outside temperature and number of people in the room. A sufficient number of bed coverings, warm, but not too heavy, should be used to keep the body warm. A hot water bag for the feet, if necessary, is a comfortable, harmless source of warmth to the body. The cold outdoor air breathed in by the sleeper is not only conducive to deep respiration which carries the oxygen to the tissues, thus increasing oxidation and body warmth, but is also conducive to sound sleep, which allows one to awaken in the morning happy, refreshed, strong and ready for the day's work.

HE TORE OFF HIS FALSE WHISKERS—AND IT WAS JACK

"Lucinda, my love, I knew you would be true. 'Tis I . . . your own Jack Delavere!"

"Jack," replied Lucinda blushing prettily, "must I confess? I recognized you from the first. That honey-smooth voice . . . those golden tones . . . that perfect throat-ease can belong only to a man who smokes OLD GOLDS. You wag . . . you thought to confuse me, but nay! POLO PERSONALS

Cavanaugh entertained the Polo club Friday. Twenty members and rural guests enjoyed a delicious scramble dinner after which a very interesting program was enjoyed which had been prepared by Miss Gertrude Cavanaugh and Mrs. Catherine Doyle.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Coffman will entertain a company of friends Saturday evening. Misses Gertrude, Freda and Anna Bitter spent Thursday evening in the P. C. Sefolo home at Sublette. Virginia Kline and Betty Messner of Dixon who have been visiting the latter's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Messner returned to their homes in Dixon Thursday evening. Mrs. Paul Strite entertained the members of her Sunday school class of the West Branch church this afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Wood and daughter moved Thursday from the Walter Woodin home to their own home on West Oregon street.

Misses Pauline Hackett, Dorothy O'Kane and Dorothy Read who spent their vacations at their respective homes returned to Decatur Wednesday to resume their school duties at the Milliken University.

William Cronister is spending several days in Mt. Carroll with his sister, Mrs. Tom Siler and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Waterbury returned home Thursday from Chicago where they had spent the past several weeks with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Silver of Mt. Morris spent Thursday evening in the Paul Strite home.

The Altar and Rosary society of St. Mary's church enjoyed a scramble dinner at the home of Mrs. Frank Niman Thursday. The afternoon was spent in playing 500. Mrs. C. W. McPherson won high score and Mrs. James Hackett received the consolation prize.

Brick Veneer Adds Dignity to Old Homestead

RESIDENCE IMPROVES WITH USE OF FACE BRICK

NO RADICAL CHANGES NECESSARY

The brick veneered house has many advantages not found in other types of construction. For one thing it is fire-resisting. The coating of brick, when used with asbestos or composition shingles safeguards the home against fires that originate from the buildings adjacent.

Then, too, the brick veneered home has an appearance all its own. There is a certain dignity, worth and well-being expressed in brick which is not found in shingle clad or clapboard sided houses.

Note in the adjacent columns the views of the home there shown. Both are photographs of the same house, one taken when the siding was shap-board, the other after brick veneer had been applied. It takes but a glance to see that the view at the top presents a home that expresses the substantialness of its owner.

Interesting Study
The views on this page present an interesting study in modernizing. The view at the bottom is the home before it was modernized—just a typical American home of the square type with a hip roof and a large front porch. There is nothing exceptional about it, nothing that distinguishes it from a thousand others.

Yet what a change when the building was modernized. An entirely different air pervades the building. It has acquired a dignity of its own.

While the brick veneered version looks new, fresh and interesting an inspection of the two views shows that the external changes were not so great as first glance indicates. The lines of the old house are plainly discernible. The changes made have been relatively simple.

Porch Gone
As is customary with many modernizing projects, the broad front porch has been discarded in favor of a small stoop. Porches are being used less and less and this particular case the stoop adds considerably to the appearance of the dwelling.

At one side a sun parlor has been added. Today the sun parlor is a popular institution because it has an all year around service. In the coldest days of winter the family can still take their sun bath, while during the summer months the windows can be thrown up to let in the passing breeze. The sun parlor is practically as comfortable in hot weather as the open porch, and is decidedly more convenient because it can be occupied even in stormy weather.

Comment has already been made on the improved appearance of the house after the coat of brick veneer had been added. The roof lines of the house remain the same as previously, little change being effected there. The bay window over the stoop is an added improvement as its emphasis this part of the building and balances against the sun parlor wing.

Interior Improvements
A certain amount of improvements were made on the interior of this building while the exterior modernizing was in progress. This illustration of the benefits of modernization, however, is primarily one where the exterior is prominent. Most of the improvements were made with the appearance of the dwelling.

The addition of the sun parlor necessitated alterations in the side walls to accommodate the sun parlor. A door had to be cut through the wall to allow the occupants of the house to enter the sun parlor. The addition of this room was followed by the purchase of a certain amount of furniture to be used in this room.

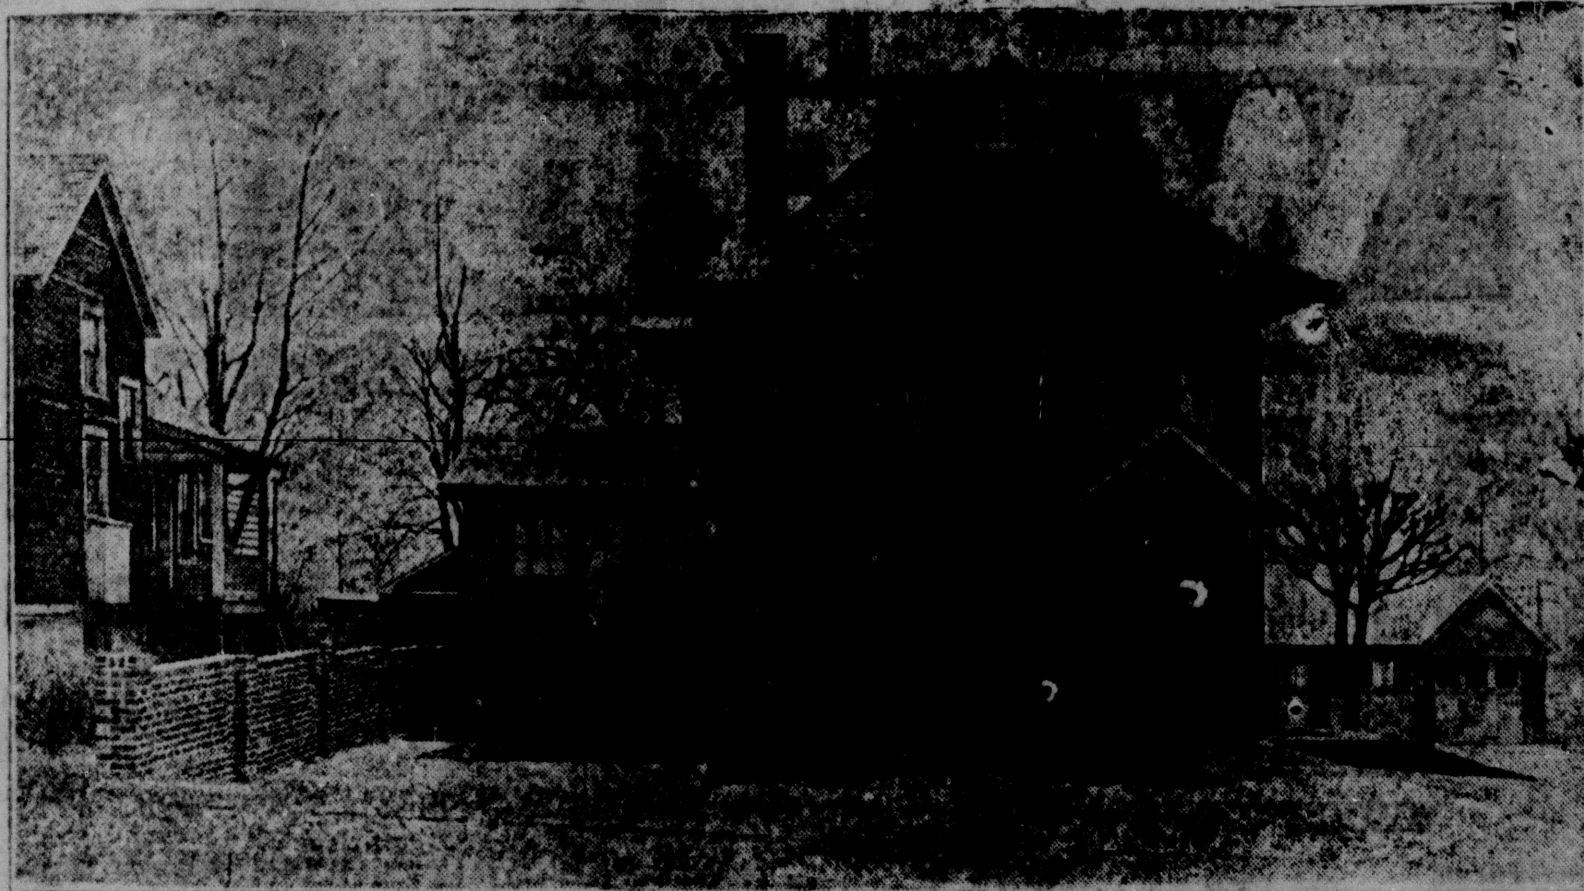

Have Warm Air Heater? Check the Air Ducts

If some of the rooms of your house are hard to heat, perhaps the fault lies with the circulating system of the warm air heating plant.

As you know, the warm air is heated in an air chamber which surrounds the fire box of the heater. This warm air is led by conveyor pipes to the various rooms of the house. The amount of warm air which flows through the conveyor pipes must approximate the amount of cold air that enters the air chamber. If the cold air pipes are too small the flow of heated air will be retarded. Some of the rooms will not be heated.

When modernizing your home, look into the heating situation. Make certain that the cold air inlets are large enough to take care of the air supply. The area of the cold air inlet should balance the area of the warm air conveyor pipes.

NOW A DISTINCTIVE APPEARING HOME

How brick may be used to modernize the home is effectively illustrated in these two views. The use of brick veneer has added a new dignity that it never had in frame.

Composition Shingles Colorful, Fire-Resisting; Have Other Merits

The growing use of asbestos or composition shingles for roofing is based partially on the inherent merits of the composition material and to the local building codes of many cities which prescribe the wooden shingle and specify that the home owner shall use a fire resisting product.

Another feature which is making the composition shingle popular is the color combinations that are possible. Roofers will tell you that decorative values make a powerful bid for favor to the home owner and that their colorful effects are decidedly more pleasing than the ordinary drab wooded shingle.

Long life is a quality inherent in the composition shingle. It lasts the proverbial lifetime of the roof and usually the roofer who secures your contract will guarantee the roof for a certain number of years. Roofing manufacturers who have tested their composition shingles under severe conditions also issue guarantees as to the length of time the shingles will last.

The fire-resisting qualities of the composition roof has long been known. These qualities have been responsible for their specification by the building ordinances of the larger communities where danger from fire is prevalent. The composition shingle cannot burn; there is nothing inflammable about it. Flying embers alighting on the composition roof die out immediately.

The various features mentioned above make the composition shingle favored among home owners who are remodeling and improving their dwelling.

ELECTRIC REFRIGERATION APPEALS TO HOUSEWIFE

Many housewives consider that the substitution of an electric refrigerator for the older method of using ice for refrigerating purposes is a considerable advance in modernization.

Certainly electrical refrigeration has certain advantages that appeal to every housewife. With the electrical refrigerator the box is kept at a given temperature at all times. The temperature on the interior of the box does not fluctuate as might occur with the ice box when the supply varies.

It is never necessary to watch for the ice man, to stay at home to let him in and clean up after he has "tracked in" dirty water or mud from the street. Leaking drains and accompanying vexations are eliminated.

The cost of operating the motor that controls the refrigerating unit is not excessive. During the hot summer months the cost of ice will usually run higher than the cost of the electricity to operate an electric unit.

Today electrical refrigerators have been placed on a quantity production basis. Due to the vast number of units that are constructed monthly or yearly, the cost per unit has been reduced to a marked extent. The price has been placed within the reach of the average household.

The refrigerator, whether cooled by motor or mechanical means, should be kept in service the year round. Years ago housewives learned that to keep food right, refrigeration was necessary even in zero weather. If the food is left out of doors, it freezes, if left inside the heated interior keeps the food above the required 45 degrees at which temperature it should remain.

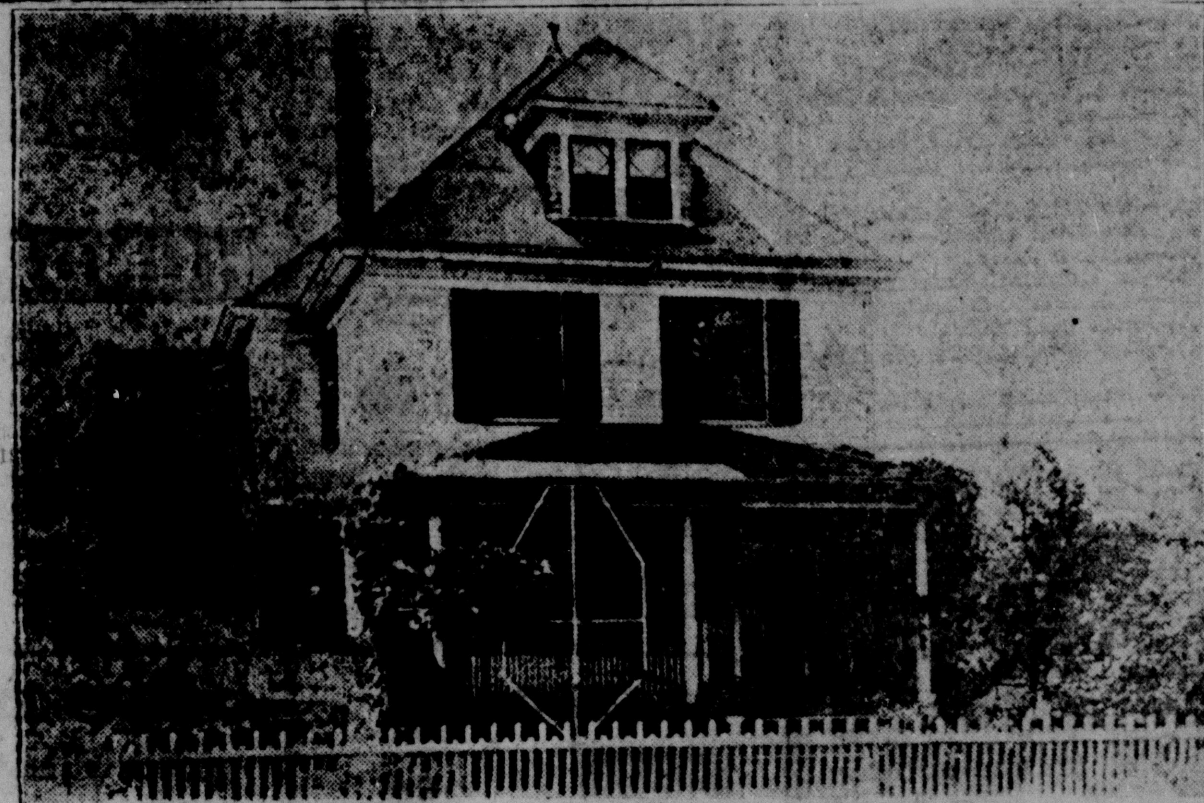

Most electrical refrigerating units are so designed that your present ice box can be used. It is not necessary to purchase an entirely new equipment, although often this is advisable.

Kitchen Sink Should Be About 36 Inches High

Does your back get tired when you wash the dinner dishes?

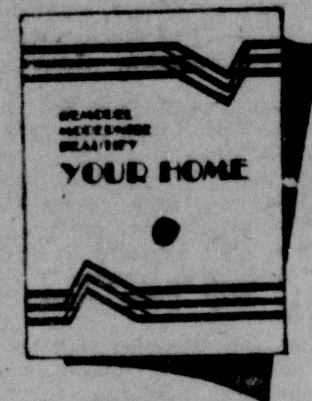

Perhaps the kitchen sink has been set too low. Domestic science experts say that the average sink should be raised so that the housewife can work with greater ease and comfort.

The average height of the sink should be at least 36 inches.

Bowling News

BY EDW. WORLEY

The City Bowling League of the Class A division, practically came to a close last week, with the exception of a postponed game to be rolled off Wednesday night between the Killian's Giants of Sterling and the Dixon Implements. The past season has been one of the most successful in many years, due to the better cooperation of the participants involved, and also to good management by the proprietor, Wm. Hodson.

Owing to the fact that the city league closed early this year and there being practically two more months of bowling left, a doubles tournament has been proposed for the remainder of the season. Entries will close Wednesday night at 11 P. M., April 9th. This tournament will consist of six teams, composed of two men each, paired according to this season's averages. The teams thus named will roll once a week, this tournament lasting one complete round and ending sometime in May.

Early entries are requested so as to get schedule ready to publish, the tournament getting off to a flying start Wednesday night, April 10th. An entry fee of one dollar is all that is required to enter. All bowlers wishing to enter inform Wm. Hodson as soon as possible. Bowlers will pay the regular league appropriation each night they bowl. Total pins will decide the winner in this tournament, there being three prizes. 1st will receive 48%, 2nd will receive 28% and 3rd will take 24 percent of the pot accumulated during the tournament. The schedule will be published next week.

The first battle of note in A league this week was the distinguished meeting of the Dixon Implements and the Chicago Motor Club. The latter defeated the Implement Plovers, but not by a great majority, neither team hitting it up very regular. Ed Worley in his battle with Poole for high individual honors took high single game with 211. He succeeded in getting high total pins also but not a sufficient number to overcome the 72 pin advantage held by Poole. At the close of the second game he had gained 51 of the necessary 72 to take the lead from Poole, but the latter came back with a whirlwind finish and rolled 205 the final game getting back 21 of the lost maps and making himself high pin getter for the season, by a 42 pin majority, Worley taking second in the averages.

The Quality Cleaners made it their last night on the alleys by clipping two from the Killian's Giants of Sterling; the latter having stated before the match that they needed two wins to clinch second place in standings. The Quality Cleaners no doubt held intentions of their own and won two games from the Sterling club. C. V. Chapman came back from the far south and rolled for Jack Hartzell on the Cleaners team and in spite of not having rolled for several months cracked up the maples for a 246 count and dizzied his onlookers with a 583 series.

The Golf Shop continued their fight for second place by winning three straight from the Good Eats Shop, who were, with the exception of J. Smith and Missman, a bit off form. Pete Moersbacher clinched third in the average column with a series of 572. Frank Cleary outlived his teammate by one pin with 573, landing himself in 5th position in average honors. Pfundstein of Sterling holds fourth by a bare majority. Moersbacher hit a 233 count the first game to clinch high single game honors.

In the B League, which ends next week, unusual interest is being shown for last minute honors. The Walnut Grove Products are after this week's triple win over the Ashton team, in second place in standings. Clint Emmert cleverly eluded his contenders for honors, with a nice 218 count for high single game and also stayed consistent to roll a series of 601 for his three games.

The Underworlds continued to add laurels to their team by winning two out of three from the noted Maple Knockers of Sterling. A game of 219 by Brenner proved best for single game honors and his series of 575 claimed additional credit that evening. The Underworlds hold a lease on first position in standings and will be decided winner by a good majority.

The complete list of prize winners will be published next week following the last league games to be rolled this season.

SPORT BRIEFS

BY UNITED PRESS

Chicago—A quintet of sharpshooters from Rahway, N. J., today held the International Y. M. C. A. basketball championship. The New Jersey cagers won the title Saturday night by defeating Kansas City, Mo., in the title game, 28 to 21. Third place honors went to the Vincennes, Ind. team, which defeated Montclair, N. J., 27 to 22.

Chicago—George Sutton, former world's 18.2 ballkine champion, will make another comeback effort tonight when he meets Percy N. Collins, Chicago, holder of the national amateur 18.2 ballkine title. The match will be played in two blocks of 400 points each.

Miami Beach, Fla.—Knute Rockne, famous Notre Dame University football coach, was enroute today to Rochester, Minn., with Dr. C. J. Barborka, physician of the Mayo Clinic.

Rockne will have a thorough going over at the clinic before returning to South Bend, Ind.

Monte Carlo—Permission is sought by the Monaco Lawn Tennis Federation for a match here between William T. Tilden, United States amateur champion, and Karel Kozeluh, famed Czechoslovakian professional. Pending the approval of the United States Lawn Tennis Association, the match already has been advertised as the "tennis match of the century."

Cleveland—The National Professional Soccer championship will remain in the east for another year.

The Fall River, Mass., team succeeded last year's champions, the New York Hakoahs, Sunday by defeating the Cleveland Bruells for the second straight time, 2-1. In the first game, Fall River won, 7-2.

Springfield, Ill.—Springfield Three Eye league ball club played its first game of the season here yesterday, defeating the Chicago Union Giants, 21 to 2. More than 1,000 fans attended the game which after the third inning resembled a track meet rather than a ball game.

Manager Danny Clark used fifteen players in his lineup against the Chicagoans. The game was the first exhibition tilt to be played in central Illinois this season by a league club.

Chicago—For the second time in two years the pennant emblematic of the National Interscholastic basketball championship of the United States floated from the flagpole of Athens, Tex., high school today.

When the Texans trimmed Jena, La., 22 to 16 in the final game of the tournament Saturday night, it marked the first time in history that the national championship has been won by the same institution twice.

The Athens team was hailed as one on the best quintets ever to compete in the tournament. Its play was so smooth it resembled the polished form of high class college quintets. The zone guarding of the Texans was exceptionally outstanding.

Los Angeles—Primo Carnera brooded today as he sought some good omen to offset the loss of a pair of No. 17 shoes in which he has achieved 13 American knockouts.

The giant shoes and a pair of 28-count gloves were stolen from the Italian heavyweight's locker yesterday by souvenir hunters.

It isn't the cost of the $35 shoes specially made, that bothers Primo. It is his superstition. He had expected the shoes to carry him to the heavyweight title.

The Italian is to meet Neal Clisby, Negro fighter, here tomorrow night.

New York—The Oklahoma A. & M. College wrestling team piled into two automobiles today and began its 4-day, 2,000-mile journey back home. The members were overloaded with medals, trophies and championships. They showed the east something about wrestling during their 10-day visit, winning the National Collegiate team championship at State College, Pa., and taking three individual championships and three second places in the National A. A. U. tournament here.

Their last night in New York City was spent in visiting night clubs. The nine collegians, wearing ten-gallon hats and high-heeled boots, presented a strange sight, crowding into the basement cabarets and swarming over the tiny dance floors.

Under the tutelage of Coach E. C. Gallagher for 16 years Oklahoma A. & M. wrestlers have caused that school to become known as the "Notre Dame of Wrestling." During that time the Aggies have lost only three dual meets and in the last 9 years they never have been outscored in dual competition, winning 57 consecutive meets.

Oklahoma A. & M. has won all three championship tournaments held by the National Collegiate Wrestling Association and annexed the majority of individual championships at the A. A. U. meets in 1925, 1927 and 1928.

Come To Great Close
This Evening

Cleveland, O., April 7.—(AP)—The American Bowling Congress will come to a close tonight with the windup of doubles and singles events. The quintets in the first ten placed held ground last night attacks of sixty others. As a result the D. Graff & Sons team of Kalamazoo, Mich., carried off the international bowling title, $1,100 in cash and a gold medal.

The afternoon yesterday saw the pins assaulted terrifically. Al Gaudreau of Saginaw, Mich., the all-events leader of the last two weeks, was ousted from his position by George Morrison of Chicago, who came out eighteen pins above Gaudreau with a total of 1983.

In the singles F. Beschel of Kansas City and W. Cooksey of Hammond, Ind., tied for sixth with 707 pins apiece.

In the doubles Wooster Lambert and Rudy Myer of St. Louis rolled a total of 1304, to tie them at sixth with Bob Pekie and George Notz of Chicago.

THE CALL OF THE OUTDOORS

SAVE THE BLACK BASS

The spawning season for black bass, one of America's most respected game fish, will soon be here and every means of encouraging protection for their nests should be fostered.

Eggs of the bass family are adhesive and stick securely to stones, sticks and gravel on the bottom of the waters in which they are deposited. This fact results in many eggs being saved from the many hazards that confront the parent fish. Fast waters or the commotion wrought by rough fish in their effort to de-

However, granting that nature possesses its enemies to the spawn of black bass and the power of man more or less hopeless in preventing a certain number of eggs being destroyed, we still have a destructive factor in our midst that can be eliminated. He is none other than the unappreciative human who molest the parents bass while on their nest.

The fellow who preys on the bass during the spawning season, is perhaps, the greatest destroyer of a save pollution. Every black bass that is taken off the spawning bed during the spring season means the several hundred baby bass are destroyed. The nest is left alone attacked by rough fish, turtles and aquatic animals. The spawn is devoured by these marauders and the waters robbed of their opportunity to propagate more game fish.

Any game fish needs solitude during the spawning period. To pose upon their nests unnecessarily means a disruption of the natural process of spawning. If America's waters are to be kept well stocked with black bass, it is necessary to eliminate the poacher and protect the spawning beds. Save the black bass by protecting the parent fish and spawning grounds during Spring.

WE Repeat Spit is a horrid word, but it is worse on the end of your cigar

... the war against Spitting is a crusade of decency... join it. Smoke CERTIFIED CREMO!

The man who spits in public places is no worse an offender against public decency than the workman who rolls cigars with dirty fingers and tips the ends with spit. And remember, more than half of all cigars made in this country are made by hand, and therefore subject to the risk of spit!

Take no chances... smoke Certified Cremo. Every tobacco leaf entering the clean, sunny Certified Cremo factories is scientifically treated by methods recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture. And its purity is safeguarded along every step of the way by amazing inventions that foil, wrap and tip the cigars without the possibility of spit!

Try a Certified Cremo—see how wonderfully good it is! Made of the choicest, tenderest leaves that the crop affords, we claim Certified Cremo's quality is tastier than that of any other cigar. Don't let its 5c price stand in your way. Your physician has in mind a cigar like Certified Cremo when he recommends a mild smoke in place of heavy brands.

Crush-proof... immaculate... foil-wrapped... Certified Cremo is the kind of cigar the late Vice-President Marshall undoubtedly was thinking of when he said, "What this country needs is a good 5c cigar!"

The Public Benefits

Changes recently made in our business methods have enabled us to materially lower our prices.

One of our large national associations has made arrangements to handle, far more efficiently than could we, certain costly items of business overhead. The savings thus effected we are glad to pass on to those we serve.

If further details of this plan are desired, we shall be glad of the opportunity of giving them.

(Copyright, 1930, NEA Service, Inc.)

There are at least four mistakes in the above picture. They may pertain to grammar, history, etiquette, drawing or whatnot. See if you can find them. Then look at the scrambled word below—and unscramble it, by switching the letters around. Grade yourself 20 for each of the mistakes you find, and 20 for the word if you unscramble it. Tomorrow we'll explain the mistake and tell you the word. Then you can see how near a hundred you bat.

A Woman—or—a Man?

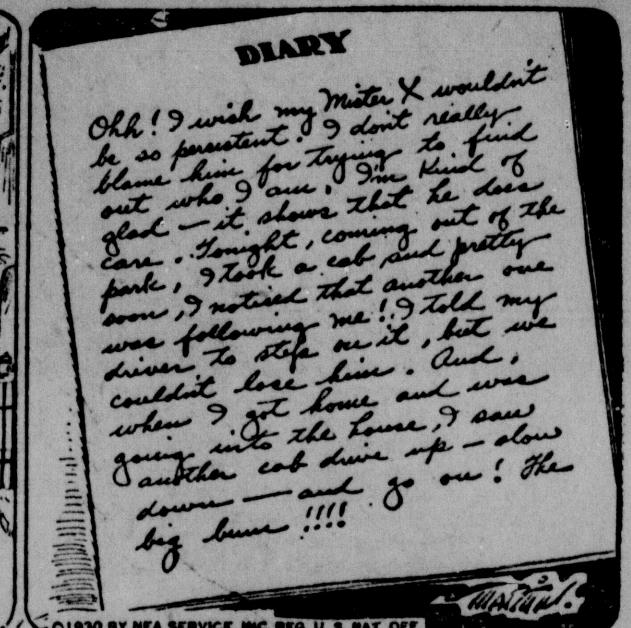

The "perfect maidservant" employed for many months in the home of a Tibbury, England, family has been revealed—as a man! And here you see "Mr. Burt," who has confessed to masquerading for 29 years as a woman. He appears in both feminine and masculine attire. He has announced his engagement to an English girl.

Los Angeles—California today had seen the last of the Chicago Cubs until some time next year. Immediately after spreading themselves to a 20 to 5 victory over Hollywood yesterday, the Cubs started for Kansas City where they will engage the American Association champions Thursday.

Yesterday's exercises produced 25 hits, including six home runs, two by Woody English.

Little Rock, Ark.—The Chicago White Sox today headed for Evansville, Ind., to open their final series of seven training games—all with the New York Giants.

The list includes one-day stands in Evansville, Terre Haute, Ind., Indianapolis, Ft. Wayne, Ind., and Toledo, finishing up with a pair in Chicago next Saturday and Sunday. The Sox yesterday squeezed out a 10 to 9 victory over Little Rock to make it two out of three.

Chicago—Rogers Hornsby, the modern Achilles of the Chicago Cubs, came back from the west coast today with his vulnerable right heel.

At the suggestion of Manager Joe McCarthy and President William Veeck, Hornsby left the club last week to consult a Chicago specialist in the hope that the wounded heel might be repaired in time for the opening of the National League season. Hornsby admits the heel hurts, but has no intention of letting it keep him out of the Cubs lineup. The doctor, however, will have something to say about that.

Indianapolis, Ind.—Some extra base hitting is gladdening the heart of Manager Heinie Wagner of the Red Sox. Russ Scarritt, left fielder, has hit safely six times in the last 13 times at bat, including two home runs and a triple. Phil Todd, back in the game at first base, cracked out two home runs and a double in five.

to come up for some instructions regarding dinner, sir." "And they had been quarrelling. Wickett?"

The butler hesitated, and instinctively looked over his shoulder. Then, lowering his voice, he confessed: "Yes, sir. It seemed to be about Mr. Crosby, sir. I gathered that the envelope contained a report of some sort, concerning Mr. Crosby."

"Now, Wickett, tell me: did Mr. Berkeley send for Doris or see Doris after his return from his office yesterday?"

"Yes, sir. A few minutes before the messenger arrived. He asked me to send her to him in the library, sir."

"Did he seem—well, angry?"

"No, sir. He seemed much as usual, sir. But Mr. Berkeley is always a stern man. She was with him for a few minutes only."

"Did you see her or talk with her after she left Mr. Berkeley?"

"I saw her, sir, as she was going upstairs to get Mrs. Berkeley dressed for dinner, but I did not detain her."

"Then Doris was with Mrs. Berkeley when your master and mistress were quarrelling over Mr. Crosby's engagement to Miss Clorinda?"

"Yes, sir."

"After a moment of reflection, Dundee asked abruptly: "Just when was it that Mr. Berkeley wrote letters on the typewriter in his room yesterday?"

"I can't say that he wrote letters at all, sir, but Mr. Berkeley was writing on his machine when I went to his room about a quarter to seven to ask for the key to the wine cellar, sir."

"Did he later give you any letters to send to the post office?"

"No, sir. Arnold went to the post office with some letters Mrs. Lambert gave me to have mailed, but they did not include one written by Mr. Berkeley."

Again Dundee considered for a long minute, frowningly. Then: "Wickett, did Doris tell you, or did you observe for yourself, that Mr. George Berkeley was—well, in love with her?"

"Wickett looked profoundly shocked and indignant. "Certainly not, sir!"

Was that denial a shade too emphatic to be taken at its face value? Dundee asked himself, after the butler had been dismissed. And then he remembered that his "Watson" was with him, that it was no longer necessary to keep his thoughts to himself.

"What do you think, 'my dear Watson'?" he addressed the parrot, poking him to attention. "Does it strike you as entirely absurd that a middle-aged, virile, handsome man, not at all in love with his impossible wife, should be more than a trifle indiscreet with his wife's lovely maid?"

Cap'n turned slowly on his perch and drooped a paperish-white lid. "Exactly!" Dundee laughed. "But, 'my dear Watson,' Mrs. Lambert and Wickett are most anxious not to have us think that Doris was 'that kind of girl.' But what other explanation can there be for this letter?"

ter which George Berkeley tore up before it was finished? What say you, Watson? Did George Berkeley, multimillionaire, suddenly decide to be damned before he'd pay blackmail and—to insure the girl's silence in another way?"

"Gigi!" You outrageous little snooter!" Dundee went to the girl, seized her by the arms and shook her. "You're a blight—and I ought to spank you."

"So many people feel that way about me," Gigi mourned. "But I wasn't eavesdropping intentionally. Did sent me up to get him a package of his special cigarettes and I heard you talking through the open door into the bathroom. Thought you were

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Unreality" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 6.

The Golden Text was, "Remove far from me vanity and lies: give me neither poverty nor riches; feed me with food convenient for me" (Proverbs 30:8).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "The Lord is the portion of mine inheritance and of my cup; thou maintainest my lot. Thou wilt shew me the path of life: in thy presence is fulness of joy; at thy right hand there are pleasures forevermore" (Psalms 16: 5, 11).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Man understands spiritual existence in proportion as his treasures of Truth and Love are enlarged" (p. 1).

DEER ROAM WISCONSIN
Rhinelander, Wis. —(UP)—Cow catchers on trains operating in this section of Wisconsin may have to be replaced by "deer catchers" in the opinion of railroad men who report that herds of 20 or more deer are often seen wandering along the tracks. Apparently unafraid of the puffing locomotives, the deer gaze calmly at the passing trains as they speed through the wooded country.

H. CAMPBELL JONES, MANAGING DIRECTOR OF THE SYDNEY (AUSTRALIA) SUN, SAYS:

THAT truth and service win in advertising as in every other human activity.

There were days when much advertising was as far from fact as the advance posters of a traveling circus. But time has taught every person concerned in salesmanship that honesty is the best policy.

A one sale man can prosper for a few weeks or even a few months in a decent sized city but the man who cannot go back to his first buyer, or, as a solicitor, to the firm which gave him his first order, is about as useless as Esquimaux Pie in Hell.

Today only the person of subtle intellect can separate advertising from news. And most times he is wrong.

NO MODERN NEWSPAPER CAN WIN A LARGE CIRCLE OF READERS UNLESS IT IS ABSOLUTELY TRUSTWORTHY AND RENDERS PUBLIC SERVICE. AND ADVERTISING AND NEWS ARE ONE AND INDISSOLUBLE.
